in cases of bacterial prostatitis, studies have shown that when green tea is combined with antibiotics the combination works better than the antibiotic alone.

"I remember thinking: 'death would be better than this'," she says.